

Contract Manufacturing

A most excellent award

AWS is proud to have been given an award by Euro/DPC for Excellence in Manufacturing. In attaining this award AWS achieved the highest score given to a PCB assembler. AWS has consistently delivered a wide range of complex PCB assemblies to DPC's exceptionally high standards. Last year AWS just lost out on this award but maintained its focus on continuous improvement in achieving the targets of excellence required to raise them to pole position.

Euro/DPC is a wholly owned manufacturing subsidiary of the multinational Diagnostic Products Corporation, which makes immunodiagnostic equipment and reagents for measuring hormones, drugs, viruses, tumour markers, bacteria and other substances present in body fluids and tissues.

AWS Electronics is a CEM based in Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffordshire, with 230+ employees, £12M+ turnover and plans for continuing sustained growth. AWS offers an end-to-end service solution to its clients and has built on its core manufacturing capabilities in design, sourcing, accreditation, after-sales support and obsolescence.
